

✓ Our business

We are one of tech transfer offices, called “Technology Licensing Organizations (abbreviated as “TLO” )” in Japan. Our aim is to support transfer of intellectual properties (IP) by researchers in universities to industry to apply said IP for new business creation or new technology development. The income from IP transfer will be utilized as a part of research budgets to encourage researchers to further create new science, technology and IP. We are continuously pouring all the efforts to support this “IP cycle process”.

✓ Main agreements for technology transfer
